DOS INSTALLATION

Be sure you are at the DOS prompt (type C: \  to be sure) before installing the game.

1. Put the CD into your CD-ROM drive.
2. Type the letter of the CD-ROM drive and press . (On most machines, type D: .)
3. Type INSTALL.
4. Follow the instructions as they appear on your screen.
5. Type ABUSE at the C:\ABUSE prompt to begin the game.

SOUND CARD CONFIGURATION

The first time you enter Abuse after installation in DOS or Windows 95, you will be asked to configure your sound card.

You will be taken to a screen and given the option of letting the program auto-detect your sound card or entering your card and its parameters manually, from a menu of available options.

If you have a SCSI hard drive, the program cannot auto-detect your sound card. If you have a SCSI hard drive you must enter your soundcard by hand.

WINDOWS 95 INSTALLATION

NOTE: The mouse cursor will not work during game setup.

1. Put the CD into your CD-ROM drive.
2. Windows 95 will automatically open a DOS window and begin installing the game.
3. Follow the instructions as they appear on your screen.
4. When the game is installed TYPE ABUSE TO BEGIN will appear on screen. Do not type ABUSE at this time, but go on to create a shortcut (below).

To Create a Shortcut

With an Abuse shortcut icon, you can start playing Abuse without having to open multiple folders each time.

1. Open the "My Computer" folder on your desktop after you've installed the game.
2. Select your hard drive. (On most machines the hard drive is C:.)
3. Open the "Abuse" folder in your hard drive window.
4. Left-click-and-drag the icon labeled simply "Abuse" onto your desktop. This creates a shortcut icon.
5. Double-click on the new Abuse shortcut icon to begin the game.

GAME OPTIONS

Use the mouse to select the various options.

Load Game. This option is only available after you have saved your position during a game.

To load a saved game, click on the Load Game icon. On the left of the Load Game screen are up to five save areas. Click on the number of the game/location you want to re-enter.

Start New Game. Choose this option when you want to begin a single-player game from the start. You will still be able to access saved positions from previous games.

Difficulty Levels. There are four levels of difficulty in Abuse: WIMP, EASY, NORMAL and EXTREME. The harder the level, the more difficult it is to kill your enemies, and the easier it is for them to kill you. Change the difficulty level by left-clicking on the difficulty box.

Gamma Correction. Abuse is meant to be a dark game. To play the game as it is designed, select the darkest shade of gray that you can discern. It should be one step lighter than black. You may, of course, adjust the gamma correction any way you prefer. Save your gamma changes by clicking the red "check" button.

Volume Control. You can adjust either the sound effects (SFX) or the music by pressing on the arrow buttons (remember that a General MIDI sound card is required to play music). Up arrows increase the volume; down arrows decrease it. Save your volume changes by clicking the button at the upper-left of the Volume Window or pressing [Esc].

Networking. This option takes you to the Network screen. This screen displays all available network games and allows you to create your own game.

Join Existing Game. Select the game you would like to join, then fill out the info blocks. Press [Esc] to return to the Options Screen.

Start a New Net Game. Click the START A NEW NET GAME button, then fill out the info blocks. Press [Esc] to return to the Options Screen.

Exit Net Game. Exits you from your current game so you can join another one. If you're not currently in a game, this option will not appear.

Quit Abuse. Exit the game and return to either your DOS prompt or Windows '95.
